

PHOTOS FROM THE DAY TRIP TO BANTIAN, ANCESTRAL VILLAGE IN SHENZHEN, CHINA
10 June 2006

Figure 1: Group photo at home.

Figure 2: Bowing before placing joss-sticks for the ancestors at the tombstone.

Figure 3: Performing ceremonial remembrance and honoring of the ancestors.

Figure 4: Outside the Chong Family Ancestral Hall..

Figure 5: The main altar inside the Ancestral Hall.

Figure 6: Talking to two Chong elders inside the Ancestral Hall.

Figure 7: Another view while inside the Ancestral Hall (the main shrine is to right of this photo.)

Figure 8: Going to the Ban Tian Hakka restaurant for early dinner.

Figure 9: Talking to another Chong elder we met and invited to the dinner, about our branch's family tree.

Figure 10: The building on the right houses the Ban Tian Village administration offices. The little attached single-storied building on its left side is the security office (police station).

Figure 11: Outside my relatives' apartment block.