AMI Assistants to Infancy Diploma

This internationally recognized Diploma is awarded by the Association Montessori Internationale to graduates of recognized training courses. These courses must meet rigorous standards, both in content and teaching staff. AMI diploma holders are in great demand both nationally and internationally.

Assistants to Infancy students are prepared to work with parents perinatally, assist with the infant at birth, prepare beautiful and responsive environments, work in infant and toddler communities in schools and day care settings, in hospitals - wherever children under the age of three are found.

Infant Toddler Educator Licence to Practice (ITE)

Graduates who hold an ECE Licence to Practice in British Columbia will qualify for the Post Basic Infant Toddler Educator Licence to Practice. Applications are sent to the Early Childhood Educator Registry, Ministry of Children and Family Development.

Course Staff

Director of Training

Maria Teresa Vidales is one of only five AMI Assistants to Infancy (birth to 3) trainers in the world. She holds her Master's Degree as well as her AMI Diplomas for Assistants to Infancy (birth to 3) and Primary (3 to 6+).

Mrs. Vidales has collaborated on the Assistants to Infancy course in Colorado, co-directed courses in California and Japan, and directed courses in Texas. She is also an AMI consultant and examiner. Chacha, as she is known to many, has 25 years experience working with children including operating a Montessori school in Mexico since 1989.

Course Assistant

Merry Hadden holds her AMI Diplomas at the Primary (1977) and the Assistants to Infancy (1981) levels as well as a Bachelor's Degree in Psychology. She has 16 years experience working with children from birth to 3 and their parents and is an AMI Consultant for this age group. Additionally, Ms. Hadden has worked as Course Assistant in the Assistants to Infancy courses in Denver, San Diego and Dallas and is currently in the Training of Trainers program. She is a certified Infant Massage and Child Birth Instructor for Respiratory Autogenic Training. Presently, Ms. Hadden directs a school in Florida.

Requirements for Certification

The AMI Assistants to Infancy Diploma is granted upon satisfactory completion of the course requirements in:

- attendance at lectures and supervised practice
- 250 hours observation of infants and toddlers
- one week practice in a Montessori Infant Community
- material making assignments
- written assignments and research paper on the Symbiotic Period
- reference albums and resource manuals
- passing grades on written examinations
- passing grades in oral examinations conducted by Examiners of the AMI.

Note: Students may do written course work and take exams in Spanish.

Course Calendar

The course is two summers with classes held daily from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Between the two summers, students must complete written assignments, arrange observations of infants and toddlers, and practice for a week in a Montessori Infant Community directed by a guide who holds the AMI Assistants to Infancy Diploma.

June 22, 2009 – August 21, 2009: week days 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The first summer's work begins with an overview of Montessori theory and practice, following the child's natural development and focusing on the period from conception to age three. Obstetrics, hygiene, and nutrition cover the anatomy and physiology of reproduction, fetal development, birth, health issues, and the puerperium (the first eight weeks after birth). We study the preparation of supportive and beautiful environments and their adaptation to the child's changing needs; emphasis is on the home and family environment, but easily applied to group settings.

Written assignments are handed in regularly throughout the summer.

The first summer ends with a written exam and conference.

2009 – 2010 September to June: The requirements are scheduled by the student.

Students complete 250 hours of observation of children from birth to three, at home and in group settings. Each student works with children in a Montessori Infant Community. If a visit is made by a course staff member, travel and lodging expenses are the student's responsibility. Observation assignments are handed in regularly during this period.

June 21, 2010 - August 27, 2010: week days 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The second summer adds a study of child neuropsychiatry and of environments for children from 12 to 36 months in an Infant Community (out-of-home setting), including appropriate materials and activities. Written assignments are handed in regularly throughout the summer.

Written and oral exams are given at the end of the second summer.

Maria Montessori: Her Life and Work

Montessori Philosophy

Children enter the world gifted by nature. With the adult's help in preparing a beautiful, supportive environment conducive to the child's development, the child can carry out the important task of constructing his personality. It is a ceaseless and intense labor, carried out with great joy when assisted by the unconscious powers which nature bestows on the child during the first three years of life.

This was the great discovery that Maria Montessori made: that the child creates himself as he interacts with the environment, revealing the person that he can become. That is the primary task of the child.

Based on careful, systematic observation of children and their needs and interests at each level of development, the Montessori approach to early childhood education recognizes the tremendous developmental achievements of each child.

"...education is not something which the teacher does; it is a natural process which develops spontaneously in the human being."
