

Bullet Bob

Hello everyone, I am back, a flea in the Wallow so to speak. With the recent summer Olympics still fresh in everyone's mind; my first topic is about the Olympics and the NFL. NFL owners, managers and coaches must drool every time they see Usain Bolt's big frame flash down the track. There have been many Olympic sprinters play professional football but only one gold medal sprint winner. He was Robert Hayes (1942-2002) or "Bullet Bob" and he played for the Dallas Cowboys (and 49ers). He was both fun and frustrating to watch because he would get behind coverage and sometimes drop the pass. But when he did catch the ball, no one was going to tackle him. He is the only person ever to win an Olympic Gold Medal and to wear a Super Bowl Ring. To see a video of Bullet Bob, click here:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=VglgTpxGZIE>