

Rhino Rash

With the American Thanksgiving holiday getting close, I thought I would tell everyone about one of our pool lexicons. It is the "Rhino Rash" (started in 1988) named in honour of its greatest challenger, The Rhino. This is how it works; there were traditionally two football games played on American Thanksgiving (always on a Thursday), one in Detroit and one in Dallas. Rick thought that by picking the two home teams as his first and second picks in our pool and if he won both, he would have a jump on everybody else who would be scrambling on Sunday to catch up. No one was able to beat the Rhino Rash until 1991 when Motown finally beat the Rash. His cure is called the Motown Ointment. With a Thursday evening game added to the Thanksgiving line up, there are now 3 games to choose from, a Super Rash. So, here is the challenge, pick the home team of the three Thanksgiving games in any order you choose except the three games must be your top three choices. The bonus, if you won all 3, would be you will have 450 points before the Sunday games begin. Fill your boots.
