

Taster Pages

The taster pages for the Tequila Aficionados have evolved over time. I started out putting what other people had thought of the tequilas from what I found on the internet. I realized that we may be influenced by this for our tastings. With that in mind I have endeavoured to find some details on the tequila's history and bottle design for the pages instead. Looking back, I wish that I had done this for all of the pages as it better to learn something about the Tequila's history than read about what other people though of it.
