

Descendants of Andrew Dickson

Generation No. 1

1. ANDREW<sup>1</sup> DICKSON He married JANE CRANSTON Mar 20, 1807 in Lyne and Megget, Peebles, Scotland, daughter of ANDREW CRANSTON and JANE BLYTH. She was born 1780, and died May 18, 1876 in Holmend, Moffat, Scotland.

Notes for ANDREW DICKSON:
Occupation given as Shepard in Hunter Boa Family History.

Notes for JANE CRANSTON:
Age 96 when she died.

Surname also spelled as Cranstoun.

More About JANE CRANSTON:
Cause of Death: Natural causes, old age.

Generation No. 2

2. ADAM<sup>2</sup> DICKSON (ANDREW<sup>1</sup>) was born Mar 11, 1811 in Lyne & Megget, Peebles, Scotland, and died Mar 03, 1899 in Holmend, Moffat, Scotland. He married MARION TEMPLETON Dec 31, 1835 in Moffat, Dumfries, Scotland, daughter of THOMAS TEMPLETON and JANE RAM. She was born 1812 in Lanark, Scotland, and died Jun 13, 1896 in Holmend, Moffat, Scotland.

Notes for ADAM DICKSON:
In the 1881 census of British Isles, it was shown that Adam was age 74 years; this would put his birth at 1807 by calculation. According to the Hunter Boa Family History his birth occurred on March 11, 1811. In 1841 he was a shepherd at Bodisbek Farm, near Moffat, and then moved to Capplehill, where he worked for 56 years.

Adam was found in the 1881 census as living at Moffat, Dumfries, Scotland at Capplehill Cottage; he was the head of his household; he was a shepherd. Adam's wife was not listed in the 1881 census, possibly she died previous to 1881.

One of Adam's daughters, Elizabeth was living with him at Capplehill Cottage, her occupation was given as tablemaid (Dom), which I assume is meaning domestic. Adam was 87 years of age when he died.

In the 1851 census of Scotland, Elizabeth (as given above) was recorded as the daughter of Adeline (daughter of Adam) which conflicts with the 1881 census.

The source of information for this Adam Dickson (#1408), is: FHL film 0224051, GRO Ref Vol 842, Enum. Dist.

More About ADAM DICKSON:

Cause of Death: Apoplexy.

Notes for MARION TEMPLETON:

Marion was not found in the 1881 census; it is possible she died previous to 1881. From Hunter Boa family history records Marion died June 13, 1896, so no reason can be given for this apparent absence from the 1881 census.

The following from Hunter Boa Family history records; The IGI records contain a Marion Templeton, christened at Douglas, Lanark, on August 08, 1811. Her parents were Thomas Templeton and Jane Ramsey, and there were seven siblings. Proof is difficult.

8. DAVID<sup>3</sup> DICKSON (ADAM<sup>2</sup>, ANDREW<sup>1</sup>) was born Jul 13, 1856 in Moffat, Dumfries, Scotland. He married FLORA ROSS. She was born 1856 in Airdrie, Lanark, Scotland.

Notes for DAVID DICKSON:

Information about Birth taken from British Isles (BI), Internation Genealogical Index (IGI); Batch C118421; Dates 1855-1875; Source call 6035516 Register; Type film.

David Dickson was head of household.

Age given as 24; calc age 1881-24=1857 which conflicts with BI/IGI age by one year.

b. Moffat, Dumfries, Scotland.

Dwelling was Old Toll Bar.

Census was Moffat, Dumfries, Scotland.

Source was FHL Film 0224051; GRO Ref Vol 842, EnumDist 4; page 3.

He became a joiner.

Notes for FLORA ROSS:

The Surname of "Ross" was assumed, as her daughter took the name of Jane Ross Dickson; it was customary to take a family surname as a "middle" name at circa 1800s.

In the 1881 British Census, her age was given as 25.

Children of DAVID DICKSON and FLORA ROSS are:

- i. ADAM<sup>4</sup> DICKSON, b. 1879, Airdrie, Lanark, Scotland.

Notes for ADAM DICKSON:

In British Isles 1881 census, age was given as 2 years, so birthdate was set as 1879 as an approximation.

- ii. JANE ROSS DICKSON, b. 1880, Moffat, Dumfries, Scotland.

Notes for JANE ROSS DICKSON:

In British Isles 1881 census, age given as 5 months; so birthdate was set as 1880 as an approximation.
