Resources?!?!?

- Want a NEW game to play?
- Need some worship ideas?
- Tired of the same old thing?

Well, we might just be able to help! The YAYA Office has many shelves of books that have been collected over the years! They have been chosen by the facilitators that have worked in this office, currently Tracy Murton, as well as from the suggestions of youth, young adults, and their leaders. The library is open for you to come look at and, in many cases, borrow from us for a while. We are here to support you, and this is just one little way! We hope that you find them inspiring and energizing!

Guidelines for borrowing:

- Let us know that you are coming (that way we can gather some stuff for you!)
- We have not created a deadline for returning books, but we do ask that you return them in a reasonable amount of time. We rely on these resources as well! Two to three weeks is the maximum, please.
- We do not charge for overdue books, but we will call to remind you about them (many, many times!).
- We ask that you respect the books that you borrow. As everyone knows, resource books are often expensive to replace and sometimes very hard to find again. Please return them in the same condition you borrowed them.
- All lending is subject to availability!
- Maximum is 4 books at a time.

We are pretty flexible about lending the resources. RESPECT the books, and we will continue to lend them out. Call the office and book some time to come and look at the selection.

What do we have?

You really do have to visit the office in order to get a sense of the extent of the resource library. Here's a start:

- Magazines
- Story books
- Prayer books
- Worship guidance
- Confirmation resources
- Spirituality books
- Music books
- Game ideas
- Christian Education resources
- Social and political issues
- Youth ministry resources
- Young adult ministry resources
- Parenting resources

The list does go on. Check out the back of the brochure to see the most current resources in each of the topical divisions.
